HICE launch statement | 19 June 2026

By Arnis Zelcs on July, 2026

We are launching HICE global library.

Today, HICE systems are already live on three infrastructure megaprojects.

HICE is the largest library of contracts management systems and contractual notices.

Currently, HICE maintains a largest database of FIDIC contractual-execution intelligence we know of — drafting, templates, notices and full-lifecycle administration systems, held to one auditable standard.

All key FIDIC books. Nine editions. 6,800 contractual notices for core editions and almost 3,000 notices for mega-projects. Documents and templates are engineered to senior-counsel discipline — built on 15+ years of practice across €16bn+ of project delivery.

There is far more than one post can hold. We will share the methodology, and the architecture behind it, in the weeks ahead.
